THE IMMIGRATION INVESTIGATORS LOOKING

AFTER FLAX SPINNERS. Congressman Guenther, of the Committee on Immigration, called a Tribune reporter's attention yes-terday to the fact that James Leer & Son, of Bridgeport, Penn., had been indicted in Philadelphia for violation of the Contract Labor law. "The mem bers of the firm," he said, with evident pleasure, "have been arrested on the evidence brought out by our committee," . The two men Lockwood and by our committee.

Ross, who, according to the testimony of Captain Francis W. Reil, taken on Friday, have been obtaining naturalization papers for aliens by false swearing, could not be found on Friday, so the investigation of yesterday was devoted to the case of the Barbour Flax Spinning Co., of Paterson, N. J. The only witness on this case from whom any satisfactory testimony could be drawn was Mrs. Jane Ryan, of Paterson. She had worked for the same firm in one of their factories in Belfast, Ireland. Richardson Long, one of the superintendents in the mills there, had given her and four other girls tickets to New-York. At Castle Garden they were joined by a woman who gave them tickets to Paterson and accompanied them there. She did not know where the tickets had come from, as she had not asked. She had been guaranteed not less than $5 a week. Her passage money was deducted from her wages at the rate of fifty cents a week. She did not work for Mr. Barbour now, but she showed a reluctance to give testimony. Kate Kearny was next called to the witness stand. She did not prove to be so amistle as Mrs. Ryan. After trying the patience of her examiners sorely by trying to give evasive answers she refused point blank to reply to all questions pertaining to the manner in which she came to America and found employment. When told that she must answer yes or no she burst into tears and was removed from the stand. When brought back again she was as stubborn as ever. All of importance that could be learned from her was that she had come here to teach others her trade. The dozen or so witnesses who were afterward examined were scarcely more communicative. They had come to this country on prepaid tickets which had come to this country on prepaid tickets which they had paid for in instalments after arriving here. Nearly all of them had sent from four to ten such tickets to their friends or relatives in Ireland. The tickets had been obtained from William Scaton, superintendent of the Barbour Flax Spinning Co., and were also paid for on the instalment plan. None of them had come here under contract, but all had found employment in Mr. Barbour's factory within two or three days after arriving in America. The Paterson mills were full of girls who had come from Ireland. In the Barbour factory alone there were over a hundred working girls who had come from Selfast. In recent years men had been coming over in increasing numbers.

The examination will be continued on Monday in the second form.

MR. MEYER DID NOT WANT TO "MOVE ON." HE AND HIS FRIENDS ARE INDIGNANT AT A POLICENAN FOR ARRESTING HIM.

Martin J. Meyer, a young dry-goods salesman, was at Police Headquarters yesterday to complain to Acting Superintendent Byrnes of the conduct toward him of Policeman Charles A. Gannon, of the Fifteenth Precinct. Mr. Meyer and a party of friends left the Morton House early Friday night and walked down Fourteenth-st. toward Third-ave., where Mr. Meyer had an appointment to meet his friend Captain Reed. The party stopped for a few moments to await the arrival of the captain, who was late, and while standing there they were gruffly accosted by Officer Gannen, who officiously ordered them to "move on." Desiring to keep his engagement Mr. Meyer declared that he would not move on. At that the officer is reported to have called Mr. Meyer a variety of villations names. Not satisfied with this, the police-man arrested Mr. Meyer and took him to the stat on. They were followed, of course, by the friends who were with Mr. Meyer, who were decidedly indignant at this treatment. Sergeant Clark was at the desk, but even his presence did not influence the officer, who continued his abusive language there. He even went so far as to thrust his club in the face of his prisoner. The sergeant ordered him to stop and listened to the stories of the gentlemen who had followed the officer and his prisoner to the station. They quickly proved to him that they were business men of standing and that Mr. Meyer was well-known to them. Furthermore they declared that he had done nothing to warrant the officer's abuse or interference. The case will be investigated by the police authorities. MR. KLSEY TO BE BAPTIZED TO DAY.

This will be a great day for the Faith Cure people in Jersey City, for there will be meetings of two congregations, that of the Church of the First Born, which will worship at the Mt. Zion Sanctuary, foot of Chapelavo,, and that of the Elsey Menorial Church, of Jewettave., which will hold services at Church, of Jewettave, which will non serve a salterville, further along the bay. At the incentral it has been announced, Mr. Raymond, the pastor, will preach, and Mr. Elsey, the founder of the messon, will be haptized in the ocean. At each place it is expected that there will be large crowds. At Mt. Mon services will be lead in the parce tent and probably in the chapel and one other place near simultaneously. The recent converts have chosen to be impersed to-day. There are about twenty of these. Mr. Hancox, the restor, will have charge of the coro-

performed the remarkable feat of writing 627 words, correctly, in five minutes, an average of ever 125 per minute; this is the highest speed ever aggistered by any operator of any machine, and speed was the point at issue. He will, of course, hold the championship of the world until this record

The Remingtons had two old operators present, Miss Orr, of New-York, and Mr. McGurrin, of Utah, who have had a life's experience in all kinds of copying, and they won the prizes for dictation work; but in the second trial, writing familiar sentence from memory, to test which machine would respond to the most rapid manipulation, the Call-graph proved its ability to write the most matter in a given Osborne beat McGurrin 19 words; and Mrs. Henderson, a Calgraph operator of Toronto, led Miss Orr 29 words.

While the Remington operators were making 140 false strokes for upper-case shift, Osborne wrote the 19 words his competitors failed to get, placing the record beyond the his competitors failed to get, placing the recent beyond the reach of the Reminigton. Type bars never dew as fast before, and the unparalleled speed of the Caligraph can only be appreciated when it is remembered that 125 per minute is faster than most stenographers write shorthand.
